RIVALS STRIVE TO BE VICTOR IN BIG PLANE RACE

(By Associated Press)
St. John, N. E., April 12.—With two airplanes on the ground and two rival camps of British aviation experts hurrying to put the machines in perfect working condition, preparations for the trans Atlantic flight took on the appearance of a real race today. The Martinsyde airplane which arrived yesterday, was unpacked and the mechanics began assembling it on the shore of Quiddley Lake. A British army hangar on canvas has been set up for the use of the Martinsyde forces. Major C. W. E. Morgan and Lieut. F. P. Raynham, air pilots, said they hoped to have it ready for a trial flight within three days. The Sopwith airplane which pilot Harry G. Hawker and Lt. Cdr. Mackenzie Grievs are tuning up is considered virtually ready for a start but the soft condition of the flying field will probably make it impracticable for them to get away before Monday at the earliest.

MONROE DOCTRINE STILL SAFE

(By Associated Press)
Paris, April 12.—With the single exception of the amendment specifically exempting the Monroe Doctrine no vital change has been made in the covenant by the league of nations commission. Last night's meeting marked the conclusion of the consideration of the covenant. The covenant as the commission left it did not include any section granting Japan's request for the recognition of racial equality nor was a section introduced covering the request of France for an international military general staff. Both Japan and France announced that they reserved the right to bring up the amendments they desired before a plenary session of the conference. As it now stands the covenant contains 26 sections.

STRIKERS SEND CHILDREN TO SAFE PLACES

(By Associated Press)
Lawrence, Mass., April 12.—Thirteen children from families of textile strikers here have been sent to Boston, New York and elsewhere to be cared for until the dispute is settled. The strike committee announced today. The first contingent was taken away last night. The strike leaders also issued a statement replying to a portion of the letter of Winthrop L. Marvin to Gov. Coolidge, declining on behalf of the mill men to submit the differences to arbitration. Mr. Marvin's letter, the statement said, gave a wrong impression of the demands of the strikers. The committee denied that any outside influences were at work.

Boston, April 12.—Twelve French whippet tanks, camouflaged in gay colors, rumbled through the streets here today. The parade was reviewed by Gov. Coolidge, Mayor Peters and other state and city officials.

BRITISH FEAR U. S. BUSINESS

(By Associated Press)
Washington, April 12.—British residents abroad have bombarded the home government with complaints of the activities of American business men throughout the world. Advice to an official of the State Department says notes of complaint also have appeared. Officially it is reported that the necessity for action is particularly realized in the Manchurian cotton district in regard to trade with the Orient. A deputation from the Manchester Chamber of Commerce has proposed to the Parliamentary Secretary to the Department of Overseas Trade that a commercial mission be sent at once to China.

LLOYD GEORGE MAN DEFEATED

London, April 11—The coalition government suffered another defeat, the second since the election of the new Parliament in the bye-election in the Central Hall district today, when Commander J. M. Kenworthy, an Asquithian Liberal, was elected by a majority of 917 over Lord Elstest Percy, a coalition-unionist. The vote was 5616 to 7633.

In the general election last winter the late Sir Mark Sykes, coalitionist, had a majority of more than 10,000 over his Liberal opponent in a vote of about 1000 less than at today's election.

Commander Kenworthy was a popular candidate because of his war record, but the coalitionists chose in Lord Percy the strongest man available, and his defeat is a heavy blow to the government, whose policy in many directions Commander Kenworthy attacked during the campaign.

CHANGE IN COLLEGE REQUIREMENTS

(By Associated Press)

New Hampshire College, Durham, N. H., April 11—The trustees of New Hampshire college have made several changes in the entrance requirements, aiming to place on these requirements a greater emphasis on the academic standards. The change was thought worth while because of new courses in construction engineering for which incoming freshmen need offer but two units of mathematics. In the professional courses, there are asked. The school year has been divided into three terms instead of two semesters, and homecoming address, it is felt, will be able to enter college with less educational loss than would be possible otherwise. In addition to this, the board of trustees has voted to grant one term's credit toward graduation for any men in the service. It is the policy of the college to continue its military program of other years, probably enlarging it by establishing here instructional work of a highly specialized sort for the student, advance or military branches. As far as possible all New Hampshire soldiers returning will be helped in every way possible including the granting to them of scholarships where financial assistance is needed. Some soldiers are already being sent here by the War Department.

Several changes in the curriculum have just been made besides those in the engineering division. Among these are the offering of new subjects in physics, government, international law, home economics and physical training. Beginning next year, all male students must take physical training two times a week for two years. As each man arrives, he will be given a physical examination and his measurements charted so that progress can be noted and a definite program for improvement laid out.

The home economics courses have been materially broadened so that in addition to the courses in health for secondary schools there will be others in training managers for institutions, the training of dietitians, and the training of the general home-maker.

The trustees also authorized the president of the college to investigate the practicability of integrating some well qualified teacher of music to come to the college and offer courses in music and coach the various musical organizations. There is no appropriation to support this work but the board felt that special fees for these lessons might properly be charged and in that manner the work could be made self-supporting.

Time to Consider the People.

It is not strange that people are beginning to chafe under the steady maintenance of war prices for most commodities, with advances in many cases and the prospect of still further increases. The war is over, the soldiers are rapidly coming home and the feeling is growing that there should be in sight some relief from the financial burden which the people have had to bear since the beginning of the war.

For this reason there will be general endorsement of the position taken by Congressman-Elect John E. Fitzgerald of Boston, who is of the opinion that something should be done to protect the people against further exploitation in connection with the necessities of life. He has sent a telegram to Secretary of Agriculture Houston calling attention to the reported prospects of an enormous wheat crop, and also to the large amount now in storage. He believes the recent 25-per cent increase in the price of flour to be unjustified and thinks it time for the government to take steps to cut the price of flour to a reasonable figure. "People do not understand," says Mr. Fitzgerald, "how, with storehouses bulging with foodstuffs of all kinds, prices are soaring until the average family cannot buy reasonable necessities."

This is true. While the war was in progress the people understood that grumbling over conditions, hard as they were, was not in order. They bowed to the inevitable with patience and with patriotism little less heroic than that displayed on the fields of battle, expecting that when the struggle ended there would come some degree of relief. They did not, and do not, expect a speedy return of pre-war prices. They are aware that the burden entailed by the war is not to be thrown off in a day or by a single stroke, but they feel that the load should begin to show signs of decreasing instead of threatening to become even more severe. There have been recent increases in the prices of numerous commodities, and the country is being warned that the price of coal will probably soon be higher than it is now.

It is significant that the government is warning manufacturers of and dealers in articles subject to war taxes against increasing the prices of these articles beyond the amount necessary to cover the tax. Consumers are expected to pay the tax, and it is apparent that the government feels there is danger that some dealers will add more to the prices of goods than it necessary for that purpose.

If such a practice is begun the government should find a way to stop it. The condition will be hard enough at the best, and the people should not be victimized by merciless profiteers intent upon enriching themselves at the expense of those whose burden already approaches the limit of endurance.

Boston has always treated Grand Army men well and the absence of any recognition when a body of those who had been attending the annual encampment marched through the streets the other day must have been due to the excitement attending the receptions of the soldiers from abroad. It is not to be believed that any slight was intended, but it ought not to have happened nevertheless.

Appreciation is sometimes the best form of remuneration, and the War Camp Community Service has a right to be proud of the appreciation expressed by Secretary of War Baker of the work done by these organizations throughout the country. He says the work should be kept up for the present, and the local Camp may be trusted to heed the call.

The death at Roxbury, Mass., last week of Col. Thomas E. O. Marvin removes a man who for many years was prominent in the life of this city, which he had served as mayor. As a business man and citizen he stood high in the community and will be pleasantly remembered by all who knew him in his active days here.

Needed improvements are to be made at Fort Constitution. The work will give employment to mechanics, offsetting to some extent the falling off caused by the ending of the war, and for this reason the improvements will be especially welcome at this time.

The Boston reception committees are seen to it that every shipload of soldiers from overseas receives an equally rousing reception. The enthusiasm is not to be permitted to wane until the last home-comer has been given the welcome he has so richly earned.

Blizzards in the West and tornadoes in the Southwest, with losses of life and large destruction of property. People living in this part of the country have some things to be thankful for.

Two eminent American surgeons have been hurriedly called to France. Let it be hoped that the Peace Conference is not anticipating the possible necessity of trephining operations.

If looks like a busy, prosperous and happy season for the Country Club.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

What is "Going On"?
 (From the Omaha Bee)
 Some of the Democratic chieftains who are disturbing the air with shouts for the League of Nations ought to get into closer touch with what is going on in Paris.

No Further Use For Fireworks
 (From the St. Paul Pioneer Press)
 More than one person is glad he got in his armistice celebration, feeling that possibly there will be in the actual peace nothing to celebrate.

The Bridge to Maine
 (From the Manchester Union)
 One of the fine things about the passage of the Piscataqua bridge bill is the State-wide support that has been given the measure. As we have read the State papers and found them heartily backing the measure, whether their respective parts of the State were to be immediately benefited it has been good to find that their support was given because this was a thing pertaining to all the State as a State. That is, they were thinking in terms of the State, instead of those of the country or town.

This is fine. It is a thing that was always in and a part of us to some extent of course, but the war and its State-wide, co-operative activities gave new meaning to it, and brought it into greater and more frequent activity. This bridge proposal has raised hardly a breath of sectional opposition. There was some question as to costs, but that was all. There was a good thing needed. Almost nobody seemed to think of it as a Portsmouth concern. It pertained to New Hampshire. And so, the matter of expense being joined out, we decided to make an all-New Hampshire thing of it. "That is the stuff."

Longworth's Fight
 (From the Chicago Evening Post)
 Republicans who are eager that their party shall command the confidence of the people will lend encouragement to the efforts of Representative Longworth.

Leaders who think America has slipped back in political thought to the days before the Republican revolt are misreading the signs of the time. The old battle cries will not serve in this era of reconstruction. Men who think the protective tariff is a sufficient programme for redeeming the country from Democratic control simply do not understand the days in which they are living.

Mr. Longworth seeks to save the party in Congress from the complete dominance of such men. He is proposing nothing revolutionary; he is simply attempting to prevent a disastrous reaction.

With the help of such men as Mr. Taft, Mr. Root and Senator Lodge the Republican embarrassing itself by an unintelligent and partisan opposition to the League of Nations. Mr. Hayes, moving about America and feeling the pulse of the people, has done well in stimulating expressions of opinion from men of bigger vision than some of those who for a time monopolized the party's utterance.

If Mr. Longworth can now persuade the leaders in Congress that they are living in 1919 and not in 1911, he will have done the party as great a service.

THE LIMIT FOR RETURNS MAY 15

Organizations and individuals generally are advised by Collector of Internal Revenue, Seth W. Jones, to understate on their calendars May 15, the last day for the filing of returns of information, giving the names and addresses of all individuals to whom payments of salaries, wages, rents, interest, commissions, and other gains, profits and income of $1,000 or more were paid during the year 1918. An extension of time from March 15 to May 15 was granted by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue for the filing of these returns.

"All employers of labor, whether in large or small numbers, are required to make these returns," said Collector Jones. "Organizations, such as corporations, companies, partnerships, etc., are required to file returns showing the salaries and wages paid to the officers and employees. A separate return for each employee whose salary for 1918 was $1,000 or more is required. Banks, trust companies, and similar institutions must make returns of information showing interest paid to, or credited to the account of an individual if the amount so credited or paid was $1,000 or more."

"Real estate agents are required to report the gross amounts received in rents or other income and remitted to their principals if such amounts for 1918 were $1,000 or more. The bill provides that whenever necessary the name and address of the recipient of the income shall be furnished by the person, corporation or partnership paying them. Returns of information must be filed with the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, Sorting Division, Washington, D. C. Collectors of Internal Revenue are not authorized to receive such returns. Form 1032, upon which reports must be made, may be obtained, however, from the offices of collectors.

"Returns of information must be accompanied by a letter of transmittal on Form 1036 showing under oath the aggregate amount of the payments. These forms also may be obtained from collectors."

"The penalty for failure to make a return on time is a fine of not more than $1,000."

PURSE PRESENTED

Secretary Scribner Shown Appreciation of Good Work.

Y. M. C. A. Secretary Sylvester H. Scribner, who has concluded his duties at Fort Constitution, New Castle, and will go into the transport service, was given a pleasant surprise today before his departure.

In appreciation of his excellent work among the men at the fort he was presented with a purse of money by the officers and enlisted men. Mr. Scribner was much pleased with the gift and greatly appreciated the friendship that prompted his bestowal. He began his duties at Fort Constitution last November and at once gave evidence that he was the right man in the right place. Ever ready to aid the men in every way he could and to do all possible for their recreation hours he became popular with all and his departure is much regretted.

Mr. Scribner leaves today for his home in Malden, Mass., and will go to Camp Devens the first of the week to remain there while the 26th Division is at that camp, after which he will be assigned duty on a transport.

WELCOME HOME

John Buzzell, a former motorman of the local electric road, arrived in New York from overseas last Monday. He left to enter the service Jan. 5, 1918, and served with the 26th Division. He is now passing a furlough at his home in this city.

Dwight Goddard of Lancaster, an employee of the American Express Company in this city for a year before entering the service, has been passing a short furlough in this city at the home of his brother, Raymond Goddard. He was with the 103rd regiment and in every battle. He arrived in Boston early this week on the Agassiz.

James H. Quick of this city, who has been on duty on the U. S. repair ship Bridgeport, for over a year at Brest, France, has arrived home.

NAVY YARD NOTES

Here on Inspection Tour.
 Rear Admiral Robert M. Kennedy of the Naval Medical Corps, representing the Surgeon General of the Navy, has been at the local yard making an inspection of the medical department of the station which includes the hospital, dispensary, naval prison and marine barracks. He was accompanied by L. C. Stumas as aide, and expressed himself as highly pleased with everything at the Portsmouth yard coming under the supervision of the bureau of medicine and surgery.

Change in German Ships
 A change has been made in the German ships assigned to the Charleston yard to be converted to transports. The Graf Waldersee was one of the two assigned there, but this has been changed and the Patricia, which sailed from Brest on April 6 for Boston with troops, will take its place. The Graf Waldersee will go to New York.

No Work on Destroyers
 Orders were received at the Charleston navy yard on Friday to discontinue work on all the destroyers owing to lack of money for outside work. This order will delay the schedule for the ships to join the fleet.

Going the Rounds Again
 Once more the rumors are ripe regarding a change of yard commandant. It may come sooner or later, but the present official head of the station has not the least thing in the way of orders so far on the matter.

Getting Ready for Drive.
 Preparations are under way to launch the coming Liberty Loan drive. Lieut. R. W. Farrell of the construction corps, will act as agent for the loan and will be assisted by officials in the respective departments.

Call Apprentice.
 One apprentice machinist was called for in the Industrial Department on Friday.

Pittsburg at New York.
 The U. S. S. Pittsburg on her way to the Portsmouth yard for overhauling, has arrived at New York.

New Laundry Machinery.
 A lot of new machinery has been installed in the laundry at the Naval prison which reduced the number of help previously required to handle this work.

Wants a Game
 The manager of the baseball team of the navy yard ship Southey is anxious to have his team meet a nine from Portsmouth or the surrounding towns. Will play at the navy yard any week day or Sunday and any week day in Portsmouth. If the grounds here will permit, games can be arranged.

Boston, April 12.—Four special trains loaded with war relief, including equipment captured from the Germans, will tour New England between April 21 and May 10, as an advertising feature for the Victory Liberty loan. Nearly 400 cities and towns in the six states will be visited, the committee announced today.

Each train will consist of three flat cars, one box and a tourist sleeper. Several speakers and bondsmen together with military guards will travel with each outfit.

Portsmouth has been accused of not having any civic pride or any pride in her old houses. The accusation seems to be right, from the manner in which the old houses are being torn apart and made into tenements.

LOCAL BOYS START NEW BUSINESS

Two local young men, well known to hundreds of Portsmouth people, today are starting an entirely new business in this city.

"New Ties for Old" is their slogan, and a guarantee of big mileage at small cost is truly a longed for boon to the owners of gas chariots.

They propose to take worn castings and "after thorough inspection and right tests to rebuild tires to wear and look like new, if the fabric is still good."

"The cost of this service," explained James J. Gause, junior member of the firm, "will be extremely modest, for we are equipped with the best machinery made for this service and have expert help."

"After careful inspection," he went on, "to prove that the fabric is worth rebuilding, the tire is treated and reconstructed, just as a new tire is manufactured, with all the care and thought that years of experience in the business bring."

The senior member of the new firm is Morris H. Gause, who has had years of the building experience in Massachusetts tire factories. James J., the junior member, has just been discharged from the navy, having seen overseas service for many months.

"A point in connection with this business," said a prominent motorist, who stopped to greet the boys, "is that we are dealing with home people. The factory, sales room and service station are all in Portsmouth and if any tire does not deliver the service expected of it, we have only to run around the corner and have the matter adjusted. Some different from walking a week or a month for adjustment returns from a factory tire."

The firm opened their store this morning at 111 Market street and a big sign will soon be in place announcing that the Portsmouth Auto Tire Exchange is right on the job.

The boys also plan to handle slightly used tires and the prices will be exceptionally modest. Valuing will also be a feature of the tire service rendered.

The home committee of the 303d Field Artillery has held that the 303d Field Artillery left Camp de Souge on March 18 and moved to Pauline, the place where the transports dock about 25 miles down the river from Bordeaux. All final preparations were made, and though at that time the prospect of ships was uncertain, a cable just received dated April 7, says "Regiments prospects brightening."

THE CAMP AT BELLE ISLE JULY 1

Major W. H. Parker, U. S. M. C., has just sent out some very neat and up to the minute advertising material announcing the opening of his Military Training School for boys at Belle Isle. The following is from one of his pamphlets:

"The old Granite State of New Hampshire is an ideal spot for your boy this summer. He'll come back to you as hard as the fifty rock up there. The bounding air, the life in the open, the regular hours, the wholesome food, and the constant drilling, will make him fit. That is, always provided that he has the 'makings' of a man in him. But please don't think his every hour will be taken up with study and drill. There'll be plenty of recreation, boating, swimming, fishing, dancing, tennis, baseball, and boxing."

COL. POWERS TO OPEN RECRUITING STATION HERE

Since the Army Recruiting Service again became established in Maine and New Hampshire, under the able direction of Lt.-Colonel Philip Powers, results have been so gratifying that additional offices in different parts of the State are being sought.

With this in mind, Colonel Powers will visit Portsmouth next Saturday and Sunday and look the situation over with regard to establishing a recruiting station here.

Colonel Powers is looking forward to his trip to Portsmouth with much delight, for he is not only a native of the Granite State, but was born and brought up in Portsmouth, and many of the "old timers" of the late 70's will remember Philip Powers as a boy.

He was educated at the Haven Grammar School and attended the Portsmouth High School for a short time and his parents and sisters lived in Portsmouth for a good many years.

But in the year of 1879 during the Mexican border troubles and the Indian Wars, the call of adventure was stronger than the young boy's liking for school, and he joined the army at the recruiting station in Portsmouth and has faithfully served his country ever since, doing duty on practically the four corners of the earth.

Colonel Powers' greatest disappointment in the army was during the present war when he was about to embark for France he had an accident and broke his wrist, but to make matters worst and kind of rub it in, the next time he started for France he was on the transport 21 hours and had to turn back as the armistice was signed.

During his stay in Portsmouth Colonel Powers is very desirous of renewing acquaintances with many of his old time Portsmouth friends.

FIRST WORD OF FAMILY IN FOUR YEARS

The Pulls Brothers Congress street shoe dealers were greatly relieved on Friday when they received a letter from their parents thru a brother. It is the first word they have received for over four years, and every effort they have made to get in communication or learn the fate of their relatives in Turkey were fruitless. They spared neither time or expense in seeking information, applying through the State Department, the Greek Legation and thru the Red Cross, but not one could get any information.

The family altho Greeks, have lived in Symra Asia Minor, which was under the rule of the Turks, and they feared for the safety of their relatives. The letter that came thru on Friday was five weeks on the way and down not bear any stamp but the mark of the Greek censor. It was from a brother, who is a student at the International College, and was thru the college that he was able to get the letter out of Turkey. He stated that while they had a very hard time during the war and were subject to all kinds of persecutions from the Turks, they were safe and conditions were now the best they had ever been as the allies were in control. He had been allowed to continue at the college which was able to run all thru this war.

YEOMAN (F) EXPECT FAST GAME TONIGHT

The Yeomen (F) basketball team had their practice on Friday night at the Armory in preparation for the game this evening with the Haverhill Y. W. C. A., one of the strongest teams in New England. Miss Heene is taking Miss McCarthy's place, as that Yeoman has left this yard, and she is making a great player.

The practice last evening showed the team's great improvement in team and floor work and their passing and shooting was very fast and accurate. This game this evening will be the last of the season, and in all probability the last for all times, as the Yeomen (F) will probably be a thing of the past by another winter. Dancing will follow the game.

HALE REMAINS A MAJOR GENERAL

Camp Devens, April 12.—The Washington dispatch printed in the papers of Thursday evening and Friday morning to the effect that Maj. Gen. Harry C. Hale, commander of the 26th Division had been demoted to the rank of Brigadier General, was today declared untrue at 26th Division Headquarters. The story originated, it is believed, from a telegram sent to this camp by the Adjutant General in Washington, stating that Brig. Gen. Harry C. Hale would, on the completion of the demobilization of the 26th Division, go to Camp Dix, New Jersey, and take command of that post, relieving Maj. Gen. Scott, retired.

The fact that Gen. Hale was referred to as a Brigadier General was noted at headquarters here and inquiry made of the Adjutant General's office by wire. The reply came back that the calling of Gen. Hale a Brigadier General was an error, that it had been corrected in the Adjutant General's office, that the War Department has no intention of relieving Maj. Gen. Hale, that as commander of the 26th Division he will head that division when it parades in Boston on April 26, and that he will go to Camp Dix after that and take command there with the higher rank.

Washington, April 12.—Reduced rates on road building material for Federal, State, county or municipal work were ordered today by the national Administration.

All railroads were authorized to cut without filing tariffs, 10 cents a ton from regular rates exceeding 40 cents a ton, on all shipments of broken crushed or ground stone, sand and gravel, slag, shells, shatts and cherts where the benefit of the reduction would accrue to the Federal, State or local governments.

JAPS JOIN IN BIG STEAMSHIP DEAL.

Seattle, April 11.—J. P. Morgan and other financiers have promised to join Japanese capitalists in the organization of a new steamship corporation, according to Kotaro Mochizuki, economist, and member of the Japanese parliament who was in Seattle recently on his way to New York.

Mr. Mochizuki said probably $200,000,000 of American and Japanese money would be invested in the new venture. Although details have not been arranged Mr. Mochizuki asserted the concern probably would be called the American-Japanese Steamship Company, and will buy and build boats and operate them in all the world's important ocean traffic lanes. One line will run from Seattle to the Orient.

PLEASING RECITAL AT NORTH CHURCH

There was a very large congregation at the Friday evening musical recital at the North Church, and the audience were greatly pleased with the recital of Thomas Mott Osborne at the piano and Peter Kurtz on the violin.

Mr. Osborne explained that it was the first time that they had ever worked out a religious program, but the audience were thoroughly convinced that there was no need to make an explanation or offer any excuses, as every number was delightfully rendered.

It was a finely balanced program and every number was a masterful treat.

The program:

TO WITHDRAW TROOPS FROM ARCHANGEL

Archangel, April 8 (Delayed) Associated Press.—In view of the situation which has developed among the American troops in Archangel, official circles are impressed with the necessity of promptly relieving the American soldiers who are now in Russia. The Washington statement that they would be relieved at the earliest moment possible as meaning not later than June 1, which is the time they believe navigation at Archangel will probably be open, and while out of a spirit of loyalty to their officers and to American traditions they express a willingness to stick it out until that date, they are exceedingly reluctant to go to the front and risk their lives.

Says Dr. Edwards, a Well-Known Ohio Physician

Dr. F. M. Edwards for 17 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave to his patients a prescription made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients mixed with olive oil, naming them Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. You will know them by their olive color.

These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, which cause a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter in one's system.

If you have a pale face, hollow look, dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, headaches, a listless, no-go feeling, all out of sorts, inactive bowels, you take one of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results.

Thousands of women as well as men take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the successful substitute for calomel—now and then just to keep in the pink of condition, 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

SPRING MEDICINE

Hood's Sarsaparilla Is Needed Now As Never Before—

Because, although the war is over, its work, worry and excitement have undermined your reserve strength.

Because the coughs, colds, grip and maybe severer illness, have broken down your power of resistance.

Because Winter's work and close confinement have worn-out your stomach and exhausted your blood.

Can you afford the good long rest the doctor advises?

If not, take a course of the famous old medicine—Hood's Sarsaparilla. It's the finest extract of Nature's purifying, vitalizing and strength making roots, herbs, barks and berries, such as physicians prescribe prepared by skillful pharmacists, in condensed and economical form.

If you want the best Spring medicine you'll surely get Hood's Sarsaparilla. Hood's Pills help the Sarsaparilla.

FLYING CORPS AND TANKS COMING

A half-dozen airplanes will be flying around over the heads of New Hampshire folks one of these days, before long. They will be organized as a flying corps, and will do the stunts learned in fighting the Boches on the Western front. Just where they are to give their show, which will include a sham battle, hasn't been decided as yet, but they will be here in New Hampshire, and where a good many of the people of the state can see them.

Meanwhile a couple of tanks will crawl around the state, one up and down the east side, the other in the western towns. They will be manned by veterans of the A. E. F. tank service who know what tanks did in the Marne salient, and they will perform all the stunts that disciplined tanks—not the Webb-Keegan kind—can be expected to do in orderly, peace-loving communities—under the Lewis law.

The tanks will go pretty much everywhere in New Hampshire, a few remote towns, off the main lines of travel, may be missed, but all the cities and towns that can be got at handily will receive a visit from one of the crawling fighters, and will have a chance to see what they look like and what they can do.

What brings them here? Why, the Victory Liberty loan campaign, of course. It has been promised that while all the familiar methods for getting a popular loan to the people would be in use again for the fifth and last loan drive, there would be some new wrinkles. Here they are—tanks and airplanes—two of one and a half dozen of the other.

But while these new features will be added to the campaign, it will be a veteran staff of workers at work on the loan. This is the outstanding feature of the preliminary campaign. Just as in Portsmouth, Frederick M. Siso is the harness again to "finish the job" so, in all parts of the state the experienced and successful workers are all rallying for the fifth and last loan drive. The list of chairmen for the towns near Portsmouth illustrates this fact. The Essex chairman is new in this position, Edmund S. Boyer taking the place of Harlan Dible, but Lawrence E. Wadleigh is in the harness again at Hampton Falls. Edward M. Smith is on the job once more at North Hampton. John M. Small is the Seabrook chairman. A. J. Drake is another veteran, in charge of the Rye campaign, and Albert R. Hatch is directing the Greenland drive. At Newmarket, Walter B. Greene who carried the last campaign through alone to a big over-subscription, when the influenza epidemic had deprived him of every one of his committee associates, is again the Newmarket chairman. Rev. J. Harrell Gould is the Newington chairman. James W. Pridham is the New Castle loan leader, and George L. Chase is organizing for the drive in Newfields. It will be seen that these are almost all experienced campaigners and war time chairmen.

He is said to have bought a large and extensive estate known as "Klein England." The Municipal Council of Amersfoort is reported to have decided to tax him on an income of 80,000,000 marks.

William McCauley, Master Mechanic, has resigned to accept a position with the Atlantic Corporation. He has made hosts of friends since coming to Portsmouth.
John McLaughlin, Employment Manager, has completed his duties and enters other fields. He has been a popular employee.
Everything is ready for the launching on Monday.

THE HERALD HEARS

That the local jitney drivers feel better since the new law on motor vehicles was explained to them.

That another cheap sure house is said to be on the way and will be located on Blanton street.

That a man's self esteem often gets a awful blow from the small boy who wants to know things.

That a man waiting for a meal to be served in one of the restaurants was becoming impatient and spoke to the waitress about the delay.

That the waitress told him not to worry, that his food was in very ready.

That he denigrated that she hurry it along as the prices might go up while he was waiting.

That when the food came along the man handed the waitress a cigarette for a tip.

That the waitress was puzzled and asked "Why the cigarette?"

That the man simply replied that it was a cork tip.

That the bluejacket pulled from the slips at the navy yard have lost their camp at city hall.

That Ernest Lee, one of the janitor forces at the custom house, was one of the party who recently took the third grade civil service examination.

That Lee is soon to quit his job with Uncle Sam in this city.

That the Bellevue Club is the latest in social circles.

That the friends of the club hear the president of that organization got away with the title of official head and that the club will get in the limelight on anything besides dancing.

That the state highway commission of Maine has announced the highway between Portland and Portsmouth is in exceptionally good shape.

MAKE INQUIRIES ABOUT PROPERTY ON WATER FRONT

New York Broker Trying to Locate Some Firm.

A New York brokerage firm has been in communication with the Portsmouth Chamber of Commerce in the matter of property on the river front with a minimum depth of 25 feet. The New York parties give no information as to the matter and it appears that the broker is on a hunt to find a business of some kind in the right place. Nothing more is known concerning the New York house or the party which it represents.

It would not be a bad idea for people who control property on the water front and who care to dispose of the same to notify the secretary of the Chamber of Commerce.

We've a good showing of both men's and young men's suits at twenty-five dollars. In the young men's line they include the snarl and popular "waist-seam" model jackets and other form-fitting models and the fabrics are "youthful." In the men's line the models are "fuler" at the waist line but shapely and stylish in effect.
